

The Department of Economics is proud to announce that Noah Bacine, a 5th year Doctoral Student, has won the Murray and Celeste Fasken Distinguished Graduate Student Teaching Award for 2018.

This award recognizes teaching excellence by a current doctoral student in the College of Liberal Arts. This year the competition was very stiff, with strong nominations from nine different academic departments.

The award comes with a certificate and an award of $300 in the form of a research bursary.

Congratulations Noah!

Noah Bacine

