

On February 12th, 2019 almost 100 Texas A&M Economics students had the opportunity to meet with and interact with recruiters from seven different companies in the Robert and Judy Allen building. This annual event allows students to hear directly from recruiters and gives them the opportunity to interact one-on-one to discuss potential internships and job openings.

At this year's Spring event, the department welcomed recruiters from British Petroleum, Goldman Sachs, Northwestern Mutual, the FBI, Reynolds and Reynolds, Edward Jones and 49 Financial.

From the student perspective, it was a great event because it allowed them to hear firsthand what each of these companies is looking for in an employee and to hand their resume to a potential employer.

From the company's point of view, recruiters raved about the quality, the attentiveness and the professional conduct of our students.

A recruiter from Reynolds and Reynolds speaks with students about potential job openings and internships.

Recruiters from the FBI talk to interested students.

Texas A&M ECON Society volunteers help check in students to the ECON Career Event